1. Introduction

The Promotion of Access to Information Act (PAIA) No 2 of 2000 was enacted to give effect to the constitutional right of access to any information that is held by another person and that is required for the exercise or protection of any rights as well as to provide for matters connected therewith.

This manual is to assist potential requesters as to the procedure to be followed when requesting access to information from the Law Society of South Africa (LSSA) in terms of PAIA.

This manual may be amended from time to time and any new versions of the manual will be made public.

2. Purpose of the Manual

This manual is intended to foster and proclaim the Law Society of South Africa (LSSA) commitment to fostering a culture of transparency and accountability within the organisation as a whole, by giving effect to the right to access information that is required for the exercise or protection of any right and to actively promote a society in which the people of South Africa have effective access to information to enable them to more fully exercise and protect their rights.

In order to promote the effective governance of all private institutions' the Law Society of South Africa (LSSA) recognises' the fundamental requirement that all the people of South Africa be empowered and educated to understand their rights in terms of PAIA in order for them to exercise their rights in relation to all institutions, whether those institutions are of a private or public nature.

In following the example set out in terms of Section 36 of the Constitution of South Africa (Act 108 of 1996), Section 9 of PAIA, recognises that such right to access information cannot be unlimited and should be subject to justifiable limitations.
